- Graham Readfearn

Audience Q & A session

CLIMATE CHANGE: Facts and fictions

Lord Christopher Monckton: A former advisor to British PM Margaret Thatcher and often called the “high priest” of climate change sceptics. He is highly critical of the theory of anthropogenic causes for climate change.

Professor Ian Plimer: Australian academic, geologist, businessman and author of Heaven + Earth. He argues that climate change politics is religious fundamentalism masquerading as science.

Graham Readfearn: Courier-Mail journalist focusing on sustainability, environment and climate change. His provocative environment blog, which regularly challenges climate change “deniers”, appears on News Ltd websites across Australia.

Professor Barry Brook: Director, Research Institute for Climate Change & Sustainability, The University of Adelaide. Professor Brook is an international research leader in global ecology and conservation biology and has received a number of distinguished awards in recognition of his research excellence.
